

Goodbye Weapon Man

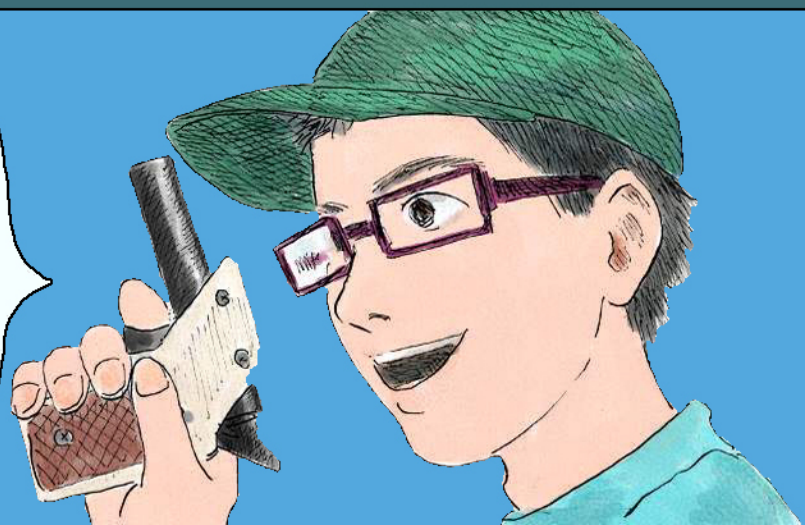

by Naoto Akimoto

Ha Ha...

I can make a gun
by myself.

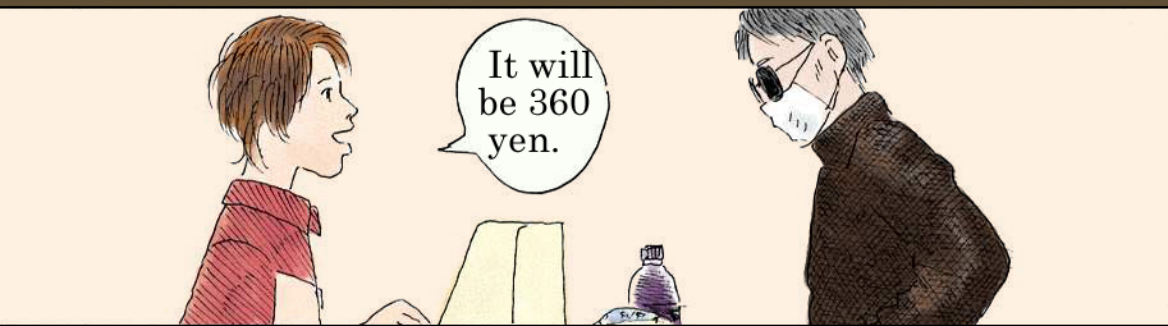

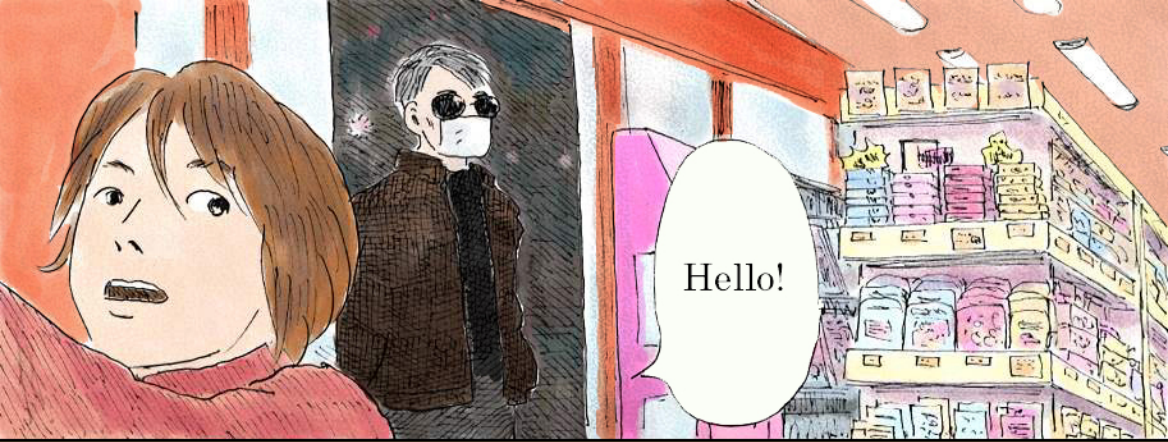

GOODBYE WEAPON

What

This is just a toy.

Oh
No!

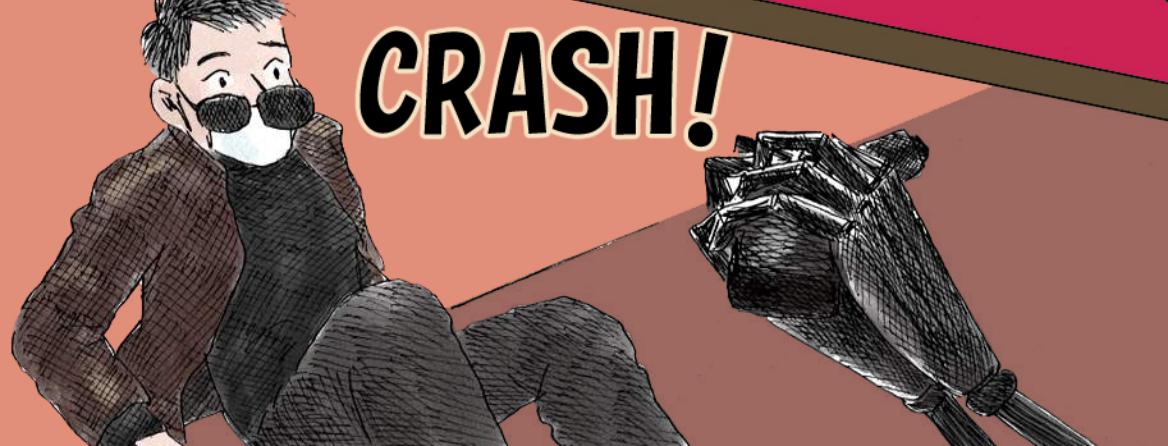

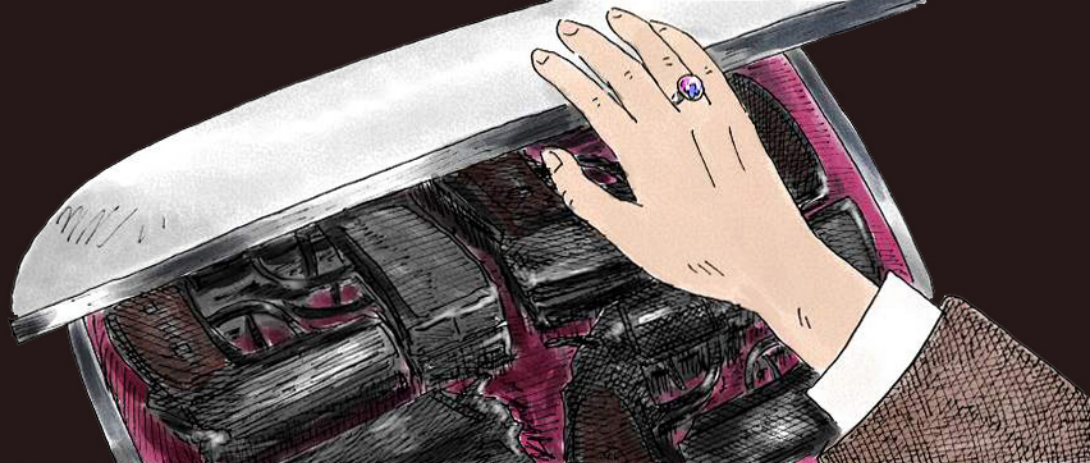

GOODBYE WEAPON

BLAM

CRASH!

This mission was so hard.

Thank you for many guns.

AAGH!
CRASH!
CRASH!

GOODBYE WEAPON

Who are you?

That is my request.
Hurry up!

SLAM

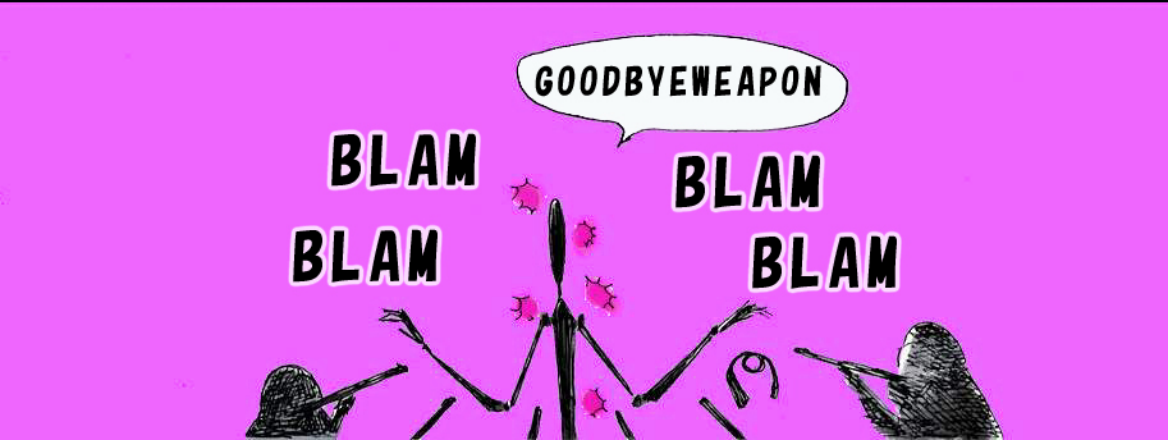

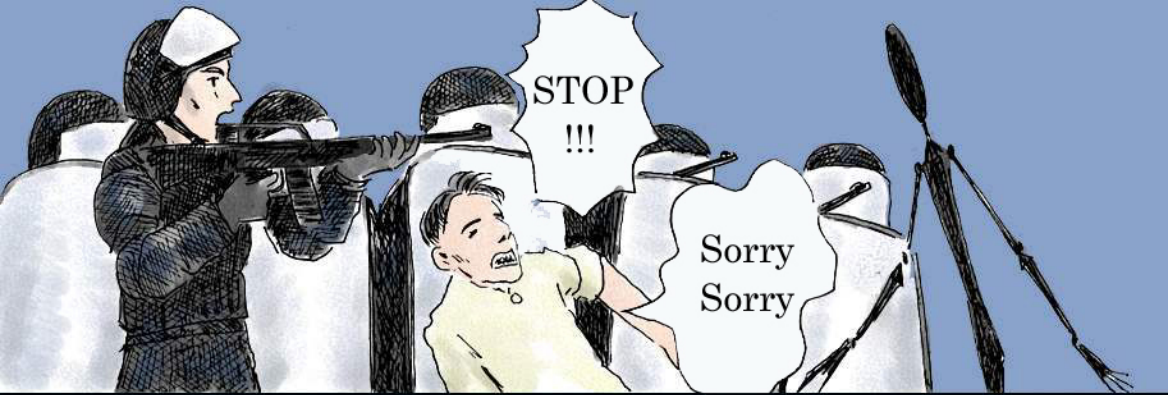

AAAGH!

CRASH!

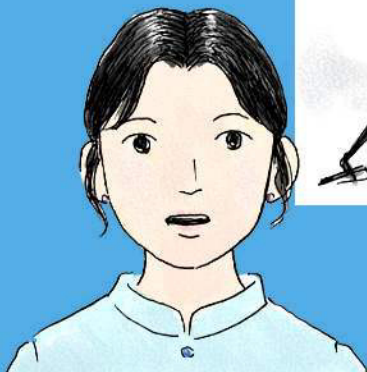

HELP!

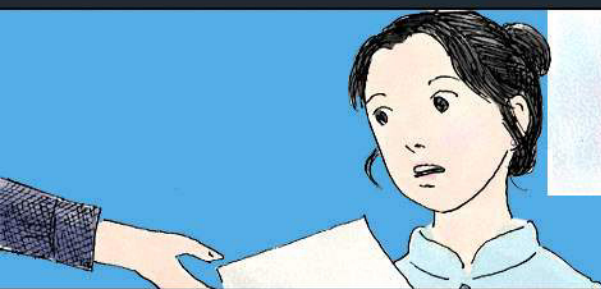

Military robot?

He broke all weapons of police in there.
After that,
he disappeared.

This just in.

He is in a military facility, now.

Shoot!

GOODBYEWEAPON

BOOM

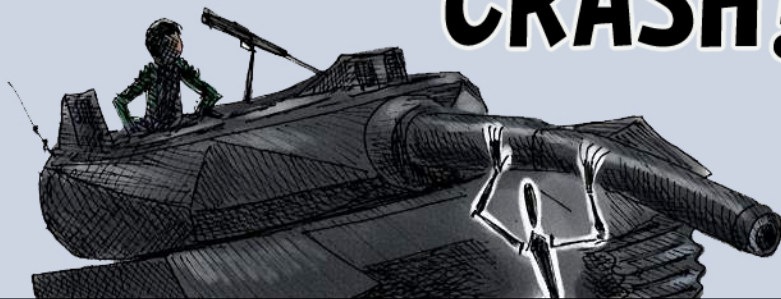

GOODBYEWEAPON

CRASH!

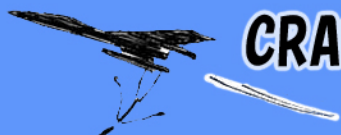

CRASH!

CRASH!

CRASH!

Who is he?

CRASH!

Drop an atomic-bomb!

Use laser weapons!

A neighboring country may invade to our country.

He must be a robot of Country A.

The Japanese Government asked the United States for support.

The citizens are asked to remain calm.

He continued breaking weapons in the world day after day.

One day all countries worked together to lure him into deep under the ground.
They used an atomic bomb
but he appeared in another place next day.

No one could stop him.

.....

Several hundred years later,
He disappeared.

No country and no factory made many weapons in that days.

But...

Some people don't stop making weapons and killing each other.

... Maybe he will appear again.
